The Business Education Lecture Series was created with you in mind.

Our Lunch & Learn Workshop Series is an education and networking opportunity featuring a speaker, panel, or program about a small business management challenge or emerging issue. We gear topics towards small business owners, managers, women in business, start up business, and small business employees.

In addition, we partner with UTRGV Small Business Development Center to bring you workshops each year to address the needs of small businesses and provide valuable professional development.
